PARTIES AT INDIA CONFERENCE.

PERSONNEL DETAILS THIS WEEK.

TERMS OF REFERENCE TO BE VERY WIDE.

ALL VIEWS WANTED.

London, July 6.
It is expected that this week the terms of reference and details of the personnel of the round table conference on India, due to open in London on October 20, will be announced simultaneously in London and India. The King will refer to the future of his Indian subjects when on Tuesday he opens India House in Aldwych. His speech will be broadcasted, and will be in reply to an address of welcome by the High Commissioner.

The composition of the round table conference and its terms of reference are awaited with great interest. Attendance at the conference of all classes of representative Indian opinion is desired, and the terms of reference are expected to be very wide.

Suggestions that a free and open conference will virtually lead to the shelving of the Simon report are, however, emphatically denied in official circles. It is thought probable that Mr. Wedwood Benn will make a statement on the situation in response to Parliamentary questions which will be addressed to him to-morrow. — British Wireless.

Effect of the Report.

A political correspondent of the Associated Press of Simla recently reported that conferences at Bombay and Simla bring out certain points regarding the round table conference and a general election in India. The two are interdependent as September is likely to be fixed for the general election to Councils, and to the Assembly and as the Imperial Conference meets in September, any idea of ante-dating the Round Table Conference must be definitely ruled out as impracticable.

As regards the personnel of the conference, while a provisional list has been ready for some time, it is liable to changes.

Publication of the Simon Report has not affected the plans for the conference and emphasis is laid on the fact that while the Simon Commission was restricted in its enquiry, proposals to the terms of reference of the round table conference could not be restricted and therefore the Simon proposals would be open to amendment or rejection as the conference thinks fit, the intention being that the conference should write on a clean slate, helped of course by various documents including the Simon report and Nehru report.

No Previous Commitments.

As regards the terms of reference of the London conference, it is argued that the very thought of a conference means that both sides should go without previous commitments and discuss matters from the widest range and that from the point of view of the progress any previous limitations regarding the terms of reference may be a handicap rather than a help to the plans of the conference.

There is also a suggestion that as the conference is to be between delegates from two nations sitting at a round table, it should not be fettered in its deliberation by any premature definitions which become unnecessary in light of the Viceroy's announcement that the natural goal of British policy is dominion status for India. With that statement as a background and with no commitments either in respect to the Simon report or any other report, the conference, it is said, is to proceed to draw its own conclusions.

Size of Conference.

As regards the personnel of the conference, while a membership of (Continued on Page 12.)

HONGKONG'S LEPRO PROBLEM.

BATCH OF QUESTIONS FOR SANITARY BOARD.

INFORMATION SOUGHT.

At to-morrow's meeting of the Sanitary Board, Mr. M. K. Lo will ask the following questions:
Will the Head of the Sanitary Department be good enough to answer the following questions for the information of this Board, after making any necessary enquiries from the proper Authorities:

1. Has any asylum been established in the Colony for the 'segregation and treatment of lepers' under Section 2 of Ordinance No. 24 of 1910?
2. If not, how are lepers found within the Colony dealt with if (a) they are British subjects or permanent residents of the Colony? (b) they do not come within either of the above categories?
3. If lepers were sent out of the Colony, is it a fact that many of them return to the Colony whilst they remain incurable?

NEW CRICKET RECORD IN SHANGHAI.

W. E. Palmer's Highest Individual Batting Score.

215 AGAINST SERVICES.

Shanghai, July 7.
Shanghai defeated the United Services in a two day cricket match by an innings and 169 runs. A feature of the game was W. E. Palmer's batting. Of Shanghai's total of 368 he scored 215 before he was run out.

This ranks as the highest individual score ever made in local cricket, beating Barrett's 201 not out made in 1914. Palmer batted for three and a quarter hours, being fourth man in and ninth out. — Our Own Correspondent.

4. How many lepers were dealt with within the last ten years?

5. Is it known whether there are, and if so approximately how many, lepers now in the Colony?

6. In view of the recent extensive medical researches into the cause and treatment of leprosy: (a) What is the latest theory as to its cause? In particular is sexual intercourse with a leper a chief factor in the causation of this disease? This disease being associated in the minds of the general public with immorality, is such a view justified by modern medical knowledge? (b) Is it infectious? (c) Is it contagious? (d) Is it now a curable disease?

7. Are there any facilities provided in the Colony for the medical treatment and cure of leprosy? If not, does the Honourable the Director of Medical and Sanitary Services consider that in the interests of public health in the Colony there should or should not be such facilities?

TYPHOON NEAR SHANGHAI.

FORTY REPORTED KILLED AT WOOSUNG.

Shanghai, July 4.
A typhoon, sweeping in from across the northern Philippines and over the China Sea, is believed to have killed at least 40 persons at Woosung to-day.

Shanghai has been hard hit by the terrific storm. Locally, communications are destroyed. Shipping here has been paralyzed for two days. High winds, accompanied by rain, have caused great damage. Many low land areas are flooded.

To-night the storm was abating but because of disrupted communications lines it is expected that full reports of the damage it has caused will not be available for some time.

STABBING AFFAIR RECALLED.

MAN SENTENCED FOR INJURING WIFE.

ETERNAL TRIANGLE STORY BY THE ACCUSED.

PRISON SENTENCE.

The stabbing affair which occurred opposite the Morning Post Building on the evening of June 24th, when a Chinese woman was seen to collapse after having being stabbed with a pair of scissors by a man, had a Court sequel this morning, when Detective Inspector Johnson produced the assailant, Ku Cho-kai, before Mr. Grantham, on a charge of having caused grievous bodily injury to a woman, named Yeun Yuk-fa.

The Woman's Story.

The complainant stated that she was the wife of the defendant. She was working as an amah in a private family house in No. 4 Wyndham Street. About 6 p.m. on the day in question, the defendant came to the house and asked for $10. She refused. He then reduced the sum to $7 and then to $5, but she still refused, saying that she had no money.

Scissors Used.

She followed him, and when they reached the second floor the defendant caught hold of her and stabbed her with a sharp instrument. One half of a pair of scissors was produced by the Inspector, as the weapon used. The first stab was on the chest; the second on the left leg, and the third on the right arm. She called out 'save life,' and became unconscious. She was in the Government Civil Hospital for about 10 days.

In reply to the Magistrate, she said she had not struck the man first, and she did not see any instrument in his hand.

The Eternal Triangle.

The defendant's story was to the effect that his wife had deserted him in Swatow, and when he discovered her working as an amah, he had asked her to return. She had refused, and asked him to mind his own business. She also demanded that a separation document should be drawn up, as he said she had another lover. He inveigled her, by telling her to come downstairs to look for someone to draw up the document, but on the stairs they quarrelled again, and she made as if to run away.

No Intent to Kill.

He caught her, but was pushed aside, and in the fall his hand came into contact with the instrument, which he picked up, and he cut her with it. He did not carry the instrument for the purpose of killing her, for if he had intended to do that, he would have killed her in the house, and not outside. He had nothing more to say and left the matter to his Worship to decide.

Sentence of six months' imprisonment was imposed.

PLOT TO RESTORE MANCHUS.

PRINCE KUNG SAID TO BE ACTIVE.

Peking, June 30.

Ta Kung Pao, leading Chinese newspaper in the North, reports discovery of an extensive plot to restore the Manchu Dynasty to the throne in China.

The newspaper says a secret society, the Manchu Restoration Society, (Chungsetang) has been at work in several provinces and has a large following.

Prince Kung, once a leader in the Manchu councils, is said to be directing Chungsetang activities from Port Arthur, where he lives under Japanese protection.

SOLDIERS ON AN OIL TANKER.

ARGYLL MEN WHO POSED AS AMERICANS.

RUSE WHICH FAILED.

A clever ruse adopted by two privates of the Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders to evade recognition, following their discovery after deserting from the Shamshui-po Camp yesterday, was disclosed after the men had been in custody and had successfully carried out their deception when they first arrived at the Police Station.

A message was received from the master of the s.s. Silver Arrow, an oil tanker, which was anchored off Laichok, to the effect that two stowaways had been discovered attempting to secure a passage on the vessel. The police were summoned and the men were taken into custody. They described themselves as James Munro and James Sims.

Cultivating the American accent, the two men, when handed to the police, were treated as ordinary stowaways and taken to the Water Police Station, where they were questioned. They still adhered to their story that they were American subjects and were accordingly detained pending their appearance before the Magistrate on charges of stowing away.

Further enquiries, however, revealed that the men were not Americans, but two privates of the Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders, and that they had deserted from the Shamshui-po Camp.

They were accordingly handed over to the military authorities.

ITALY HITS BACK ON TARIFFS.

RAISES DUTY ON MOTORS FROM U.S.A.

Rome, July 2.

Informed circles here to-day declared that Italy is taking the lead in the international fight against the high American tariff schedules contained in the Hawley-Smoot law.

Yesterday Italy's customs officials increased the duty on American automobiles entering Italy. The increases range from 150 per cent. to 250 per cent. depending upon the weight of the motor car imported from the United States.

Spain has retaliated against the American tariff schedules and so has France. But with the vigorous and apparently relentless leadership furnished now by the Government of Premier Benito Mussolini it is expected that all countries in Europe will erect high tariff barriers against American goods to get even with the Hawley-Smoot law which makes it impossible for many European products to compete in the American market.

MORE DISTURBANCES IN INDIA.

VOLUNTEERS TO BREAK THE FOREST LAWS.

Yocat, July 6.

Eight thousand volunteers, forming the first batch of forest law breakers, have gone to Pusad in readiness for launching a satyagraha campaign on July 10.

The expedition is fully equipped from axes to ambulance cars and bandages. It has a qualified doctor in attendance. — Reuter.

Pooma Police Charge.

Pooma, July 6.

A large procession, proceeding to Peruada gao to do homage to Gandhi, was held up at the Bund Gardens. Those in the procession then squatted on the road until the early morning and refused to disperse. They stoned the police with the result that several policemen were injured. A military officer who was passing by in a motor car was also injured. The police finally made a charge with cudgels and scattered the crowd, several people being hurt. — Reuter.

MANCHURIA AND THE WAR.

UNIFIED CONTROL A NECESSITY.

RESIGNATION OF REBEL CHIEFS ADVOCATED.

PEACE SUGGESTION.

Shanghai, July 6.
That the control of all the Nationalist armies in China Proper should be entrusted to one supreme head is the opinion of Mr. Liu Kwang, the Manchurian delegate, now seeking an audience with Marshal Chiang Kai-shek at Liuhai, along the Lung-Hai Railway.

The above statement was brought back by one of the foreign journalists who went with several others to inspect the Nationalist defences along the Lung-Hai Railway. The same informant added that the foreign journalists arrived at Liuhai on Friday and during an interview with Marshal Chiang Kai-shek, President of the National Government, Mr. Liu Kwang arrived.

Resignations Suggested.

In the presence of the foreign journalists and Marshal Chiang Kai-shek, Mr. Liu Kwang stated that the Manchurian leaders, including General Chang Hsueh-liang, were eager to act as mediators to secure an early cessation of civil strife in China.

According to Mr. Liu Kwang, the Manchurian Government hoped for the joint resignation of Marshals Feng Yu-shiang and Yen Hsi-shan, the administration of the Shansi troops to be entrusted to General Fu Tso-yi, and Shansi civil affairs to Mr. Chao Tai-wan.

Sacrifice Essential.

Mr. Liu Kwang expressed the intention of the Manchurian Government to urge the immediate resignations of Marshals Feng and Yen. It is the opinion of the Manchurian leaders that China Proper should be under the control of one military Commander, believing that concentration of power in the Central Government will provide an assurance for effective cessation of internecine wars.

The Manchurian delegate told Marshal Chiang Kai-shek that he had the full support of the Manchurian leaders in making this suggestion, adding that peace would be in sight if the Kuomintang and Shansi Commanders would only sacrifice their powers for the welfare of the country.

The foreign journalists regard the interview between Marshal Chiang Kai-shek and the Manchurian delegate as being of a most important nature.

Planes Wrecked.

Commenting on the Nationalist fortifications along the Lung-Hai Railway, the journalists said that the Nationalists had established a strong air base there. This base has been under the keen observation of Shansi plain clothes troops who had made many attempts to wreck it and in a sensational raid organised some ten days ago they succeeded in destroying over twenty Nanking aeroplanes.

Referring to their visits at the front, the journalists stated that they arrived at Kweihsien on Thursday and throughout that day and Friday they visited many places of great interest.

Nationalist Aim.

The audience with Marshal Chiang Kai-shek and the interview with the Manchurian delegate lasted over an hour. In some of the places visited by the journalists the noise of gun-firing could be heard distinctly. The trip ended yesterday when the party returned to Pukow by rail.

Some of the journalists said that the Nationalist Commanders fighting along the Lung-Hai Railway aimed to prolong the war with a view to gradually reducing the numerical strength of the Kuomintang forces. The Nationalist Commanders hold the view that the Kuomintang forces have been reduced by at least three-fourths. As numbers represent the principal asset of the Kuomintang allies, the Nationalist leaders believe that their efforts, on the Lung-Hai Railway has been to a large extent effective.

LADY TRIUMPHS IN AIR RACE.

FAMOUS PILOTS BEATEN IN KING'S CUP.

ACCURATE FLYING.

London, July 6.

After Miss Johnson's wonderful solo flight to Australia and the Duchess of Bedford's record breaking journeys to and from Africa, another English airwoman earned distinction yesterday when Miss Winifred Brown, a 26 year old Manchester girl, won the air race for the King's Cup against the competition of over 80 men pilots, including many of international fame.

Miss Brown piloted an Avro Avian machine with Cirrus 3 engine. The handicappers placed her fourteenth to start from Hanwell on the 750 miles round-England flight, but she steadily improved her position and, following a wonderfully accurate course, arrived back at Hanwell eleven minutes ahead of the second machine flown by Mr. A. S. Butler, one of the pioneers of aviation, who was piloting a Dehavilland Moth with a Gipsy 2 engine.

Flight Lieutenant Waghorn, England's Schneider Cup winner, was third in a Blackburn Bluebird with Gipsy I engine, and Mrs. A. S. Butler, wife of the second pilot to arrive, came fourth in a Dehavilland Puss Moth machine.

Fifty-eight machines completed the course and Miss Brown received tremendous cheers on arriving when she descended from her machine, her face blackened with exhaust fumes, and later when she received the King's Cup and the Siddleley Challenge Trophy.

Miss Brown had never before flown such a long distance. She maintained an average speed of 102.7 miles an hour over the 750 miles course. Irrespective of handicap the best times were those of Mr. Butler in a Gipsy Moth at 129.7 miles an hour, Mrs. Butler in a Puss Moth at 129.5 miles an hour and Flight Lieutenant Fielding, piloting Prince George's Hawk Moth, whose speed was 126 miles an hour. — British Wireless.

CHINA RAILWAY COLLISION.

FREIGHT TRAIN DERAILED NEAR SHANGHAI.

Shanghai, July 6.

Hardly had the Shanghai community recovered from the shock of the bandit attempt at an explosion along the Nanking-Shanghai Railway in order to wreck coaches when two freight trains on this line, while approaching Lung Tam this morning, collided. As a result, the train which was on its way to Shanghai was derailed.

The collision occurred before dawn and it took the engineers of the railway fully two hours to restore the derailed coaches to the track. The early morning express was considerably delayed on account of the accident.

ABERDEEN LORRY SMASH.

DRIVER ACCUSED OF MANSLAUGHTER.

SAID TO HAVE JUMPED OFF BEFORE ACCIDENT.

POLICE EVIDENCE.

Fong Yee-chon, the driver of the motor lorry which met with a mishap in the Aberdeen District, on the morning of June 24th, resulting in injuries to twenty-five coolies, two of whom succumbed to their injuries, was brought before Mr. Lindsell by Traffic Inspector Alexander, this morning, on a charge of manslaughter.

Mr. Horace Lo appeared for the defendant, and pleaded not guilty.

Gears in Neutral.

Mr. Somerset Fitzroy, Public Prosecutor, outlined the facts of the case. The chief evidence, he said, would show that when the lorry was righted, it was found in neutral. The gears were not in, and this proved that the lorry had been running free at the time of the accident. The brakes were in excellent condition, and the lorry could have been pulled up within 18 feet if it was travelling at 20 miles an hour.

Evidently Lost Control.

The accident occurred at a double corner, but if the driver had held on to the wheel, he might have averted the accident by getting on to the straight road further on. Instead, he evidently lost control, and jumped out, and, in doing so, turned the driving wheel, and caused the lorry to upset. The people in the lorry could not say what actually happened, but the people in the back seat of another lorry, proceeding in front, saw the accident.

Mr. Lamb, of the P.W.D., then produced plans of the scene of the accident.

Inspector's Evidence.

Acting Sub-Inspector A. V. Baker, in charge of Aberdeen Station, who was the first Police Officer to arrive on the scene of the accident, said he found an overturned lorry, No. 2651, lying on its left side, with its nose pointing towards Hongkong, in the mouth of a small side road leading to the Tai Tung Distillery, that being just off the main motor road on the Aberdeen side of the bridge.

Around the lorry, 25 injured persons were lying, there being 18 women and seven men. They were all more or less injured and covered with blood. Witness commandeered an Aberdeen Company motor bus, and dispatched 19 of the cases to the Government Civil Hospital. The remaining six, being more serious, were held back for conveyance in the motor-ambulance which witness had telephoned for before he set out from the Station upon the receipt of the report of the mishap. The ambulance arrived before 8 o'clock.

Around the lorry and the injured persons were gathered, when witness arrived on the scene, some 30 fisher-folk who had come ashore from their craft, which were lying alongside the road.

Sub-Inspector Baker added that the accused was not amongst the injured persons found lying around the overturned lorry.

Accused Reports Mishap.

In explanation, Mr. Fitzroy stated that after jumping from the lorry, escaping injury before it overturned, the accused apparently got into another lorry, an empty one, which had preceded him on the road and which he now used to take him to the No. 7 Station, where, he reported the accident.

Acting Sub-Inspector S. C. Saunders, Inspector of Vehicles, deposed that on June 24th he visited the scene of the accident, this being at 8.25 a.m. He found the lorry lying on its side. It seemed to be practically undamaged, with the exception of the driver's seat, which had been knocked off and of the offside mudguard, which was badly buckled. He examined the vehicle and found that the (Continued on Page 12.)

CRIMINAL INTENT DISCUSSED.

RESPONSIBILITY OF AN EIGHT-YEAR-OLD BOY.

The importance of the age of a child in regard to criminal responsibility was commented upon by Mr. Whyte Smith at Kowloon Magistracy on Saturday, when a Coroner's inquiry into the circumstances attending the death of a lad who received fatal injuries during a fight with another boy, was held, with the assistance of a jury composed of Messrs. E. G. Smith (foreman), D. C. Walmsley and G. Cheung.

The Coroner informed the jury that the inquiry was to investigate the death of a boy 12 years of age, (11 in Western reckoning), who was alleged to have died as a result of a kick by another small boy. Evidence would be given that there had been a fight between the lads.

Medical evidence was given by Dr. A. H. Uttley, who gave the age of the deceased as about 11 or 12 and that of the boy alleged to have inflicted the injury, as being about 11. This lad had two black eyes. The cause of death was shock following the kick.

Chung So-yau, a cousin of the deceased, said that, together with another lad, the three of them were talking near their house in Tokawan Road, Kau Chai, a fourth lad, was sitting a short distance away and he suddenly remarked that witness was blind in one eye.

The Coroner: Are you blind?
Witness: I am not.

Continuing, witness said that Chung So-nam, the deceased, replied to Kau Chai and said that he himself was blind. Kau Chai then cursed the deceased, who retaliated with the same expression. The deceased had slightly raised his foot when Kau Chai struck him. Chung So-nam returning the blow by hitting Kau Chai in the eye.

The Fatal Kick.

At that moment Kau Chai saw his grandmother approaching and he ran to his house but shortly afterwards returned and again struck the deceased, whom he also kicked, causing him to fall down. He was unable to talk or rise and later died.

Further corroborative evidence was given, the lad who was alleged to have inflicted the injury not being called. His father gave his boy's age as being nine, according to Chinese reckoning.

Addressing the jury, the Coroner said that they could take it that the lad Kau Chai was really eight years of age, according to Western reckoning. The age of the boy was of great importance. The jury had heard the evidence and they had heard that there was something in the nature of a fight between the two lads. There was, of course, the question of who was at fault and who had been the first to strike the other, but he did not think that that was an important point for them to consider. He thought that the important point was the question of the age of the boy, Kau Chai.

Criminal Responsibility.

Continuing, the Coroner said that he thought it might be assumed that the deceased died as a result of the kick which Kau Chai had undoubtedly given him but as he had said, Kau Chai's age was the important question for them to consider.

After quoting Russell on Crime with regard to the criminal responsibility of a child, the Coroner pointed out that a child of seven years of age could not be guilty of a criminal offence while a child between the age of seven and 14 was presumed to be incapable of a criminal offence, but the presumption would be weakened as the age neared 14. The point he wanted the jury to consider was simply whether a boy of the age of Kau Chai could be held to be criminally res-

STATE PURCHASE OF MINES.

AUSTRALIAN TREASURER RESIGNS.

Sydney, July 5.

The Federal Treasurer, the Rt. Hon. Mr. Edward Grenville Theodore, has resigned following the announcement of the findings of the Queensland Royal Commission of Enquiry into the circumstances attending the purchase of Mungana (Chillagoe) Mines by the Queensland Labour Government when Mr. Theodore was Premier.

The Commission finds that Mr. Theodore and another Labour ex-Premier, Mr. W. McCormack, also Mr. Goddard, who was Mines Manager of Chillagoe, were guilty of fraud and dishonesty in procuring the State to purchase mines for £40,000.

Mr. Theodore, interviewed, hotly denied the charges, which he declared, were the work of his political enemies. Mr. Theodore has made it clear that his resignation will only operate until these charges are cleared up.—Reuter.

Premier to Act.

It is understood that the Premier, the Rt. Hon. Mr. J. Scullin, will act as Treasurer in consequence of Mr. Theodore's resignation, but it is not yet known who will deliver the Budget.—Reuter.

possible for an act such as that before the jury.

It was quite clear, proceeded the Coroner, that if the lad Kau Chai were a year younger he would not be held criminally responsible at all. As it was he could only be held responsible if he had shown some predisposition to crime.

On the Border Line.

With regard to the age, the age being just on the border line, the Coroner said he thought the jury would be quite justified in treating Kau Chai as if he were under the age of seven. Of course, a year at that age could not make so very much difference in the matter of criminal responsibility. It was just a question of whether a boy of that age had the capacity for committing a crime, whether he could really be said to have criminal knowledge or criminal intent.

In conclusion, the Coroner said that he thought, although he did not wish to dictate to the jury, that they would have no difficulty in finding that the lad was not old enough to be held criminally responsible and if they held that, they would be justified in returning a verdict of death by misadventure.

Proceeding, the Coroner said that leaving out the question of age for the moment, it was, of course, very unlikely that Kau Chai would have expected Chung So-nam to fall down and die. Whether he intended to kick him in that part of the body or not the Court would never know, but the Coroner thought the question for the jury to consider was the question of age and if they decided Kau Chai was not old enough to be criminally responsible, the verdict should be one of death by misadventure.

Jury Agree.

Foreman of the jury: We agree to that.

The Coroner intimated that if the assailant had been an older boy he would have been placed in custody and the Police would have proceeded against him, but as it was it had been indicated to him that rather than have the boy tried, a Coroner's inquiry should be held immediately. Of course, he did not see that a trial on a criminal charge would have had any effect. "I don't know if you would like me to say anything to the boy," added the Coroner.

Foreman of Jury: No.
Coroner: You don't wish me to say anything to him at all?

Foreman: No.
Coroner: Very well.
A verdict of death by misadventure was accordingly recorded.

THE KING'S CUP.

WOMAN PILOT WINS THE RACE.

London, July 6.

The King's Cup air race was won by Miss Winifred Brown who flew an Avro Avian machine and completed the course at an average speed of 102.7 miles an hour. Miss Brown also won the Sideley Trophy for light aeroplanes.

A. S. Butler, in an O.H. Pass Moth came second and Flight-Lieutenant Waghorn third in a Blackburn Bluebird.

The race, which was over a course of 750 miles, began in the morning in brilliant weather. The first of the 88 starters was a single-seater Moth which left at eight o'clock. The scratch machine, a powerful Vickers Vulture, left at ten forty. Crowds watched the flyers depart from Hainworth and assembled at various points along the course where the conditions prescribed compulsory halts.

The route embraced Leicester, Hull, Newcastle (turning point), Leeds, Manchester, Liverpool, Birmingham, Bristol and Southampton. There were seven women competitors, including Lady Bailey and Miss Winifred Spooner.—Reuter and British Wireless.

Prof. Arthur C. Pillsbury, University of California scientist, has sailed for Suva, in the South Seas, on a scientific study of ocean life. "I am going down personally in a diving dress to conduct these investigations," says Dr. Pillsbury.

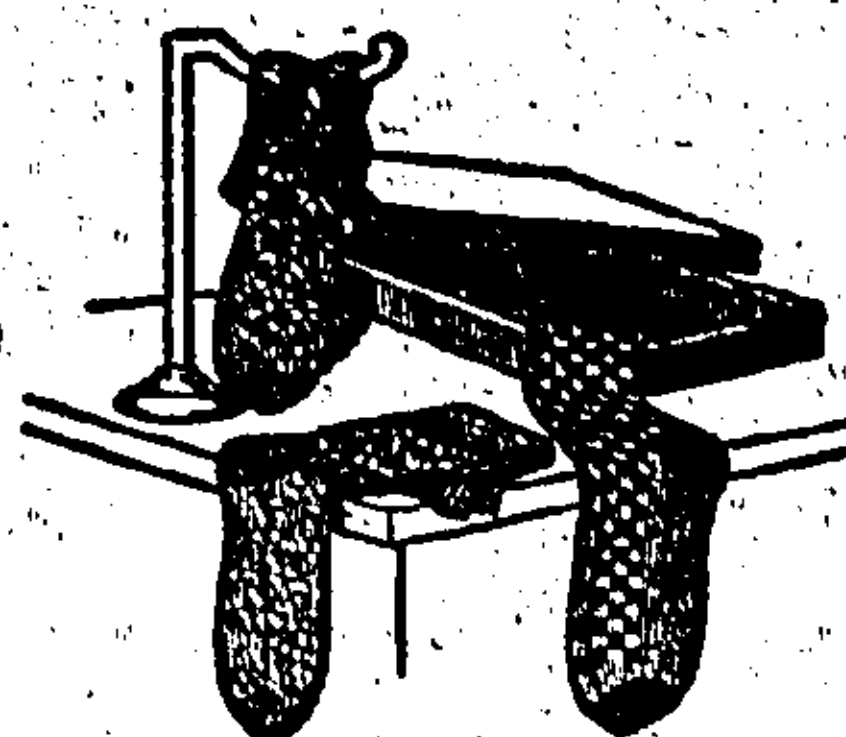

This picture shows actual fighting between police and native rioters in Bombay, India. The embattled police may be seen in the foreground, most of them in dark uniforms. With clubs and rifle stocks they are beating back a mob that formed before Girgaum Police Court to protest against the arrest of native leaders.

The wedding of Miss Gladys Newell Walsham and Lieut. H. R. Hopking, at Holy Trinity Cathedral, Shanghai. Dean Trivett officiated. Following the ceremony at the Cathedral, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. R. Walsham, in Hart Road. Mr. F. W. Maze, Inspector-General of Customs, was toast master at the reception. The bride and groom have left Shanghai for India, where Lieut. Hopking is stationed.

Hosiery*

Distinguishes
the well-dressed Man

A man is judged by his socks. For his hosiery and his neckwear offer the well-dressed man his best opportunity for distinction through the judicious use of a dash of colour.

In the new Luxite Styles, colour combinations are strikingly individual, yet they are always in good taste.

Here you will find a comprehensive style service that is expressed in complete colour combinations in shirts, ties, handkerchiefs and Luxite Hosiery.

WALTER J. HAWKER, A.C.I.S.

HONGKONG.

Below are some opinions by professional men who have been favoured with advance copies.

"I have tested it in several instances, and found that in each of those instances, the work fully meets the test."

"For years I have complained bitterly of the lack of an Index to the Companies' Ordinances of Hongkong. The volume will be of great service."

"The work is excellently conceived and very well worked out."

"Every solicitor, barrister and auditor and company secretary will find the work indispensable."

"I heartily congratulate Mr.
Hawker on his work."

AIRMEN CRASH IN BURMA.

HOOK & MATTHEWS MEET
WITH MISHAP.

Bangkok, July 5.
Anxiety is felt regarding the fate of the airmen Hook and Matthews, who are attempting a record flight from England to Australia. They left Akyab for Rangoon on Thursday and since then there has been no news of them. It was originally thought that they might have continued on to Bangkok without touching at Rangoon but they have not arrived here and search parties are being organised.—Reuter.

Crash Reported.

Rangoon, July 5.
The Government has received a message to the effect that the aeroplane in which Hook and Matthews are flying is reported to have crashed twelve miles from Tangup. The local authorities have been asked to carry out an immediate search.—Reuter.

BRITISH NAVAL MEN
WOUNDED.COMMUNISTS FIRE ON
H.M.S. TEAL.

Shanghai, July 5.

There is great "Red" activity at the North end of Tungting Lake from Yochow to Shashi. The Communists fired on H.M.S. Teal, Bee, Scarab, and the Guan near Chenglin. Two British bluejackets were wounded and one American killed.

Jardine's launch Shun Wo was seized and burned.

The Wuchang-Changsha Railway has been cut in numerous places.—Reuter.

See Going to Yochow.

Hankow, July 4.

It is stated that Yochow was taken by "Red" troops yesterday.

The British warship Teal was fired on by "Red" forces and two ratings were wounded. H.M.S.
Teal replied to the fire.

The British warship H.M.S. Bee is proceeding from Hankow to Yo-chow.—Reuter.

WITH PEARS

You have pears in a round glass dish. You serve them with a big spoon. Two or three on a plate—that's the right helping. Now some juice! The pears seem a bit lost yet—looking for something—cream! Ah! Nestlé's Cream! There's a tin in the cupboard—or there should be. Let's open it! Pour it on! Like rich fresh cream you get at the farm. Cream from milk of sleek cows fed in grassy meadows.

WOMAN'S WORLD

FOR OUR LADY READERS.

Boudoir Slippers.

TO SUIT ALL TASTES.

With the cocktail pyjama suits and negligees we have taken to wearing at home go dainty boudoir slippers of every lovely colour under the sun. Jade-green or geranium velvet slippers worn with black are a bright touch, which also attracts the eye to neat ankles and slim feet.

Some have the high, slender Spanish heel, which is so elegant; others have low heels for comfort and relaxation. Mostly they are cut in a V down to the sole on either side of the foot, a shape which invariably makes the feet look small.

Velvet is a favourite material, it is so rich and soft. Slippers of washable art velveteen are very practical as well. They are made in the leading artistic shades, soft hues rather than brilliant ones.

In one smart shoe I saw some delightful boudoir slippers made of soft suede in a fascinating Chinese shape, with slightly upturned toes and no heels. These, of course, would be just right to go with full Chinese trousers and a coat covered with gay Chinese embroidery.

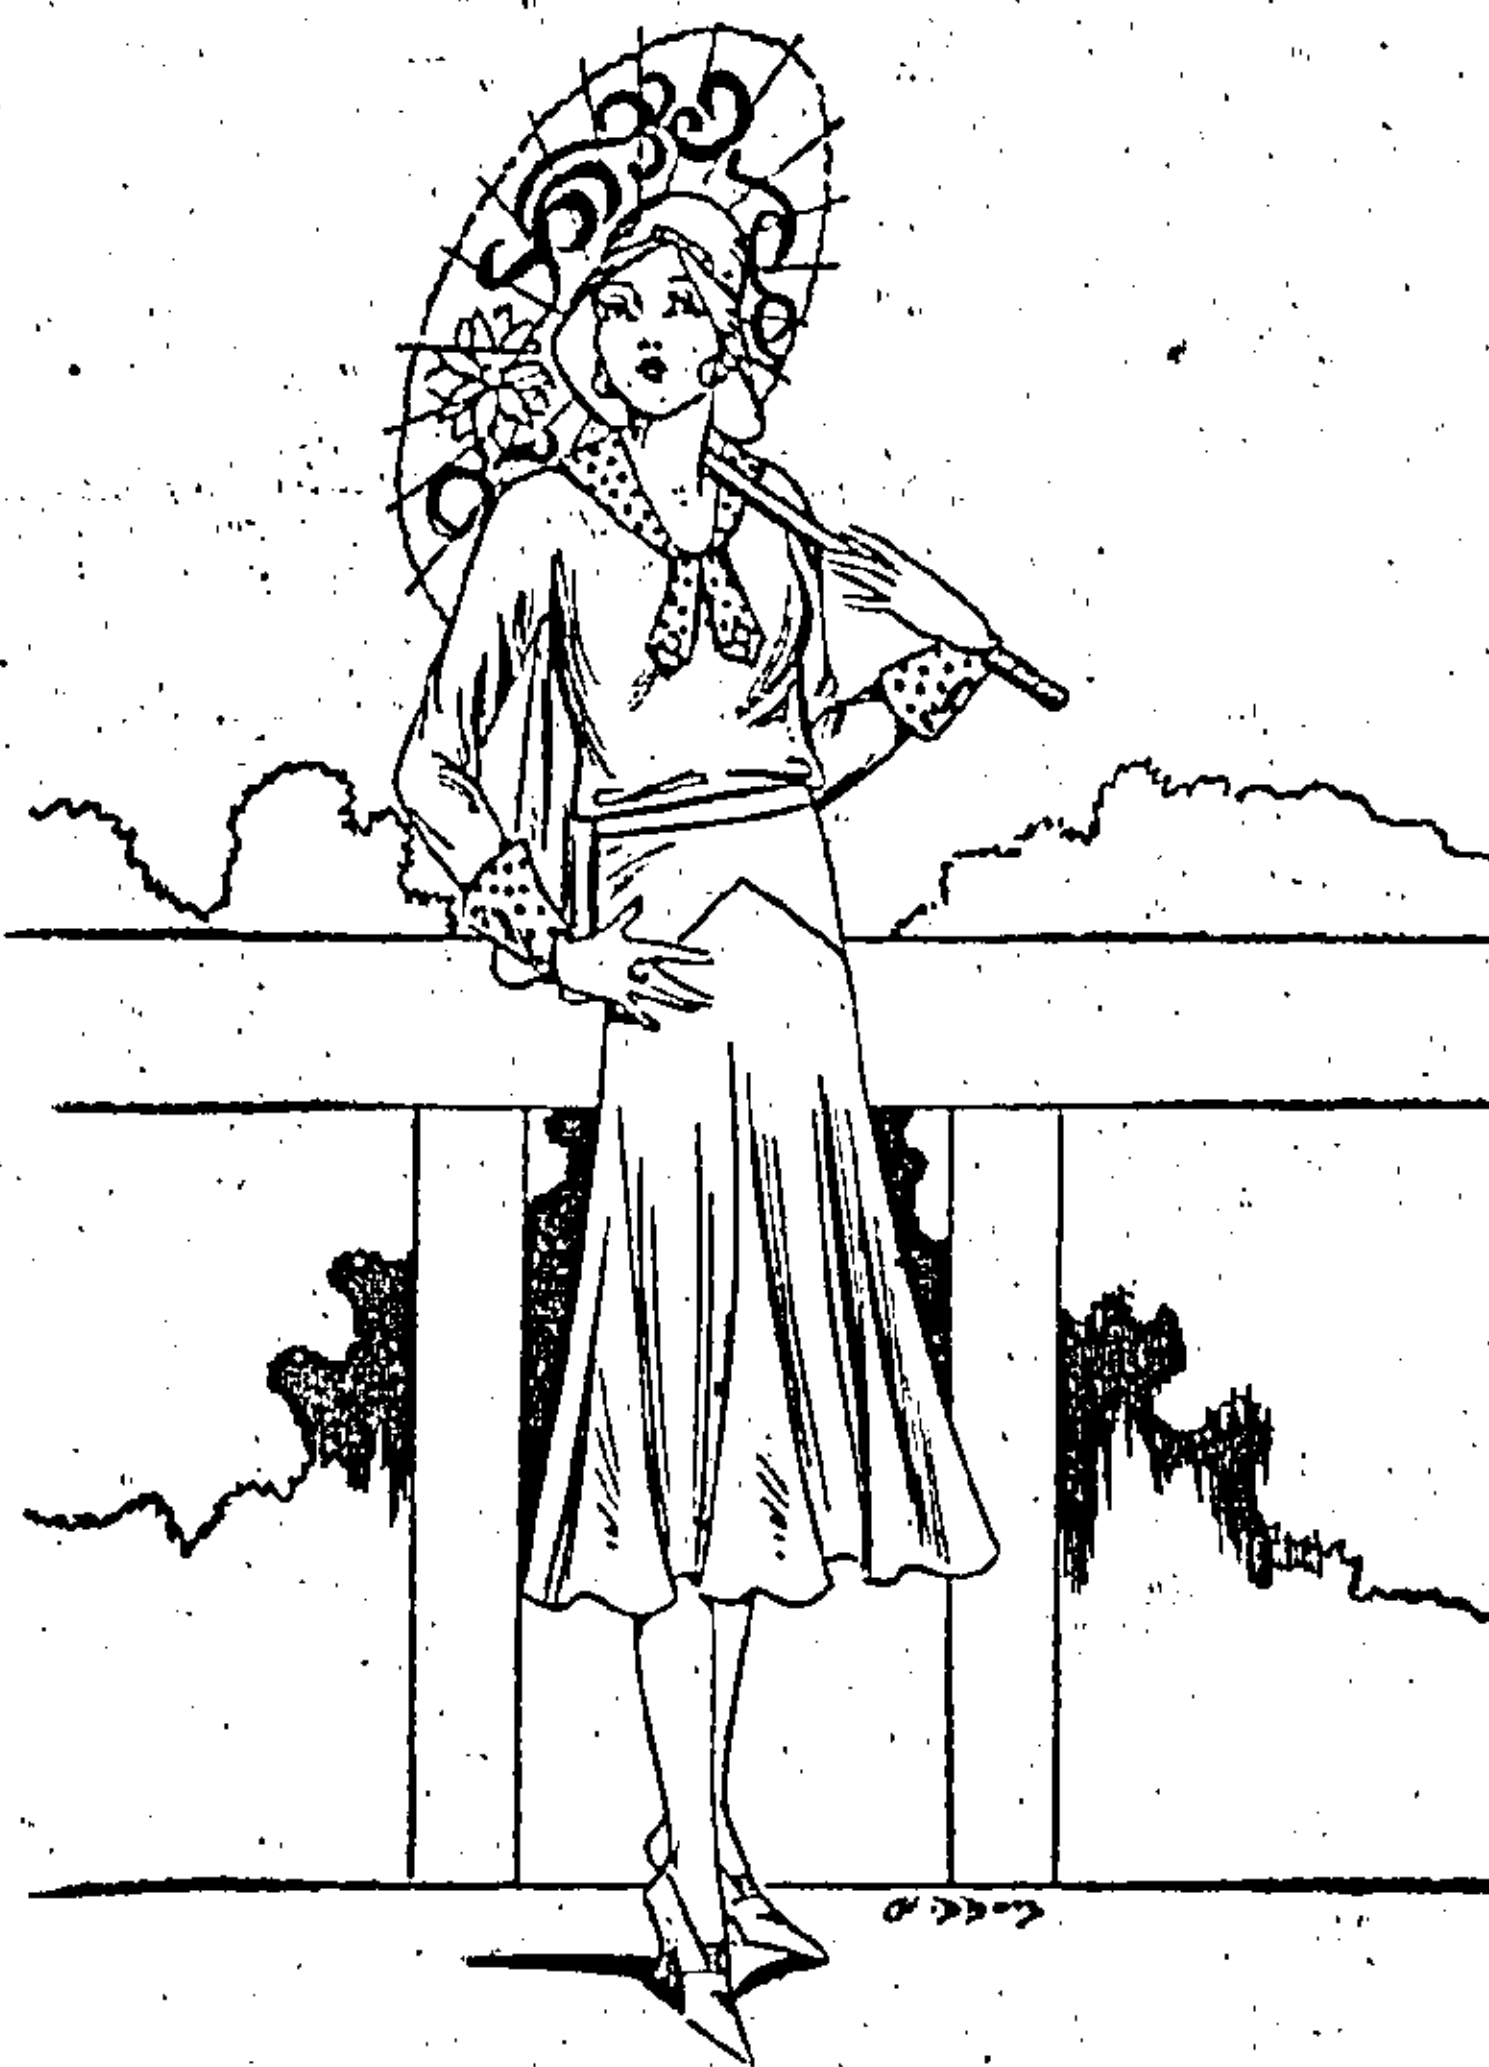

P.H.E.—In Exchange.

A Natty Touch.

The shapely cape lends an "air" to a plain frock of red crepe de chine, the fitting bodice of which is tucked in points well over the hip-line. The sleeves of this model are worthy of note.

In Leaf Green Shantung.

The use of a spotted collar and cuffs on a frock of plain material is effectively illustrated in this sketch of an afternoon ensemble in leaf green shantung. Beige spotted with green supplies the contrast, and the little soft straw hat is also of beige, with a green ribbon to trim it.

Reducing Your Weight.

[By a Beauty Expert.]

Skirts may be long or they may be short, according to the issue of the controversy—"Short v. Long Skirts"—but Fashion still demands the slim silhouette.

To reduce safely the process should be gradual. It may be satisfactory to find on weighing oneself that several pounds have been shed in one week, but it is rarely lasting or wise.

Gradual reducing results in improved health, better physique, and a clearer complexion. Quicker methods, on the other hand, may result in loss of health, vitality, and looks.

Dieting is an essential part of the treatment, but it is unwise to cut off all fats, starches and sweet foods at once. If this is done the system is deprived of the essentials that sustain the body.

To begin with cut these things down methodically. For instance, if you are in the habit of eating one ounce of butter a day, cut it down to half. Apply the same principles to sweet things and starchy foods.

Make a point of having all bread crisply toasted and substitute crisp biscuits for cake.

The health will not suffer if the sweet course is cut out altogether and fresh fruit substituted for it; always remembering the value of the citrous fruits—apples, oranges, lemons, and grape fruit—in dissolving superfluous fat.

Exercise Essential.

Allow salads, vegetables, and fresh and stewed fruit to figure largely on the menu.

It is a noticeable fact that those people who "masticate" their food properly require much less than Shingle Caps for Long Hair.

How quick manufacturers are to move to a new mode in these days is demonstrated by the fact that the fashion for longer hair has had its effect on shingle-caps.

The latest variety of sleeping-cap is now provided with a little pouch at the nape of the neck to take the wool roll of hair that so many girls coil in the neck now that they are growing their tresses.

those who bolt it, so take time over your meals.

Fluid taken with meals tends to form bulk. It is better to take liquids about an hour or so before or after meals.

A tumbler of hot water, into which the juice of a lemon has been squeezed, is not only a slimming drink but has a marvellous effect on the skin. The juice of half a grape fruit is also good.

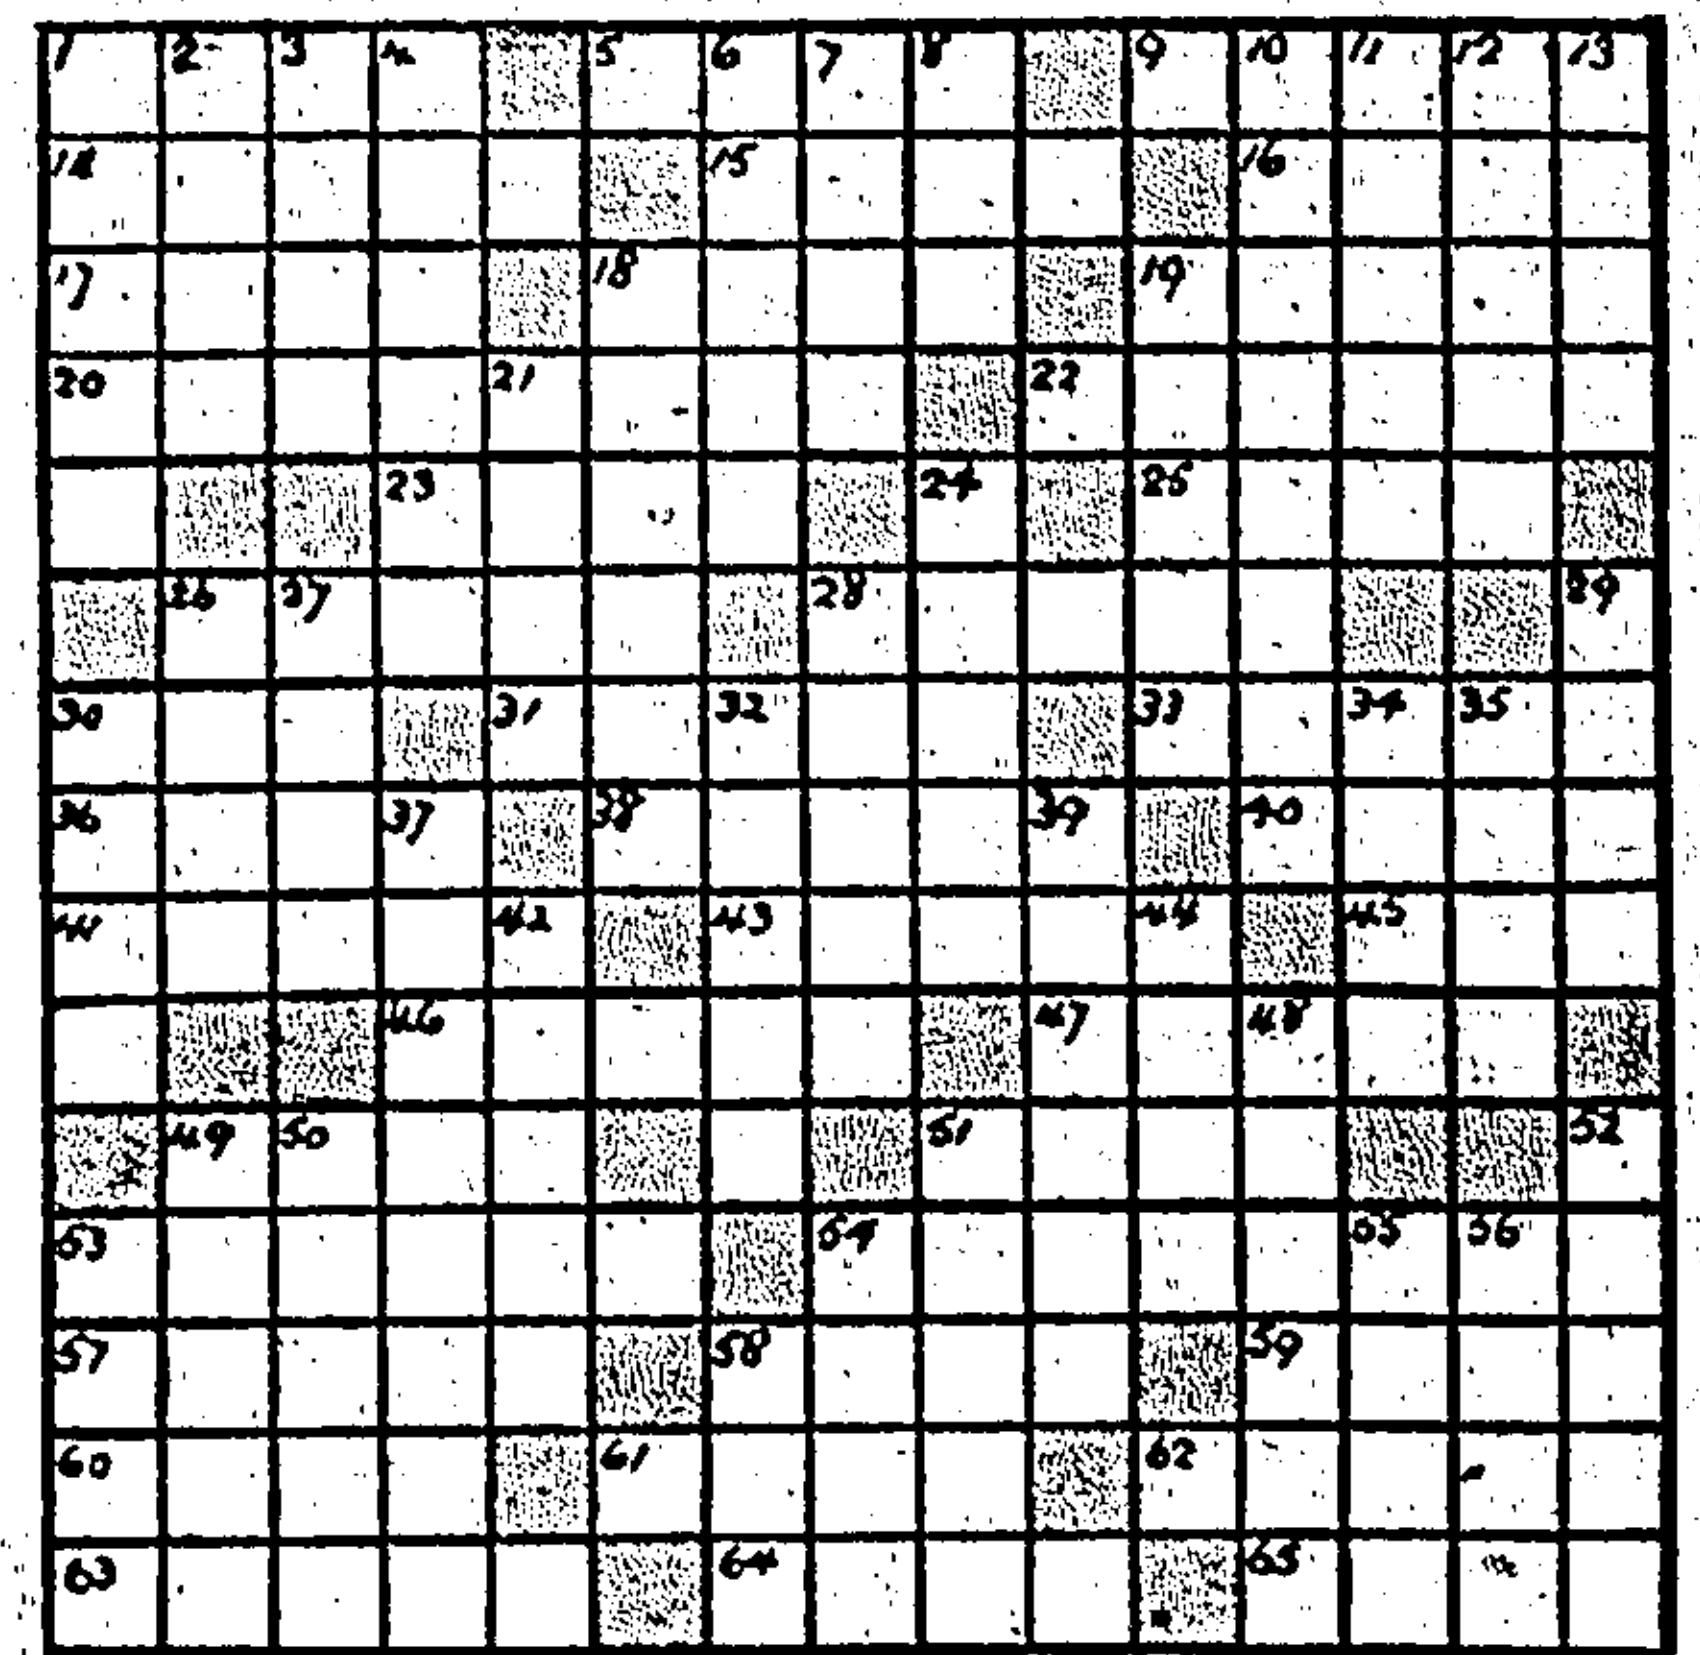

Exercise is also an essential part of the treatment, particularly those games that demand movement from the hips, the trunk, and the shoulders—the parts where the fat is most likely to accumulate.

Golf, dancing, skipping, swimming, gymnastic exercises, fencing, wrestling, cycling, and last but not least walking, are all beneficial means of shedding fat.

Epsom salts, dissolved in the bath water, make an invigorating and "slimming" solution. Half a pound of salts to a bath of water is the right proportion to use, and the bath should preferably be taken at bed-time.

Finally, bear in mind that cosy chairs and sofas are an enemy to a slim figure. Lolling and comfort are not only indulged in occasionally, and a hair or wool mattress is preferable to a soft, downy bed.

LIVING COSTS DATA.

The rising cost of living in Hongkong, due to the fall in the sterling value of the dollar enhancing the prices of commodities generally, is proving a difficult problem to all sections of the community. Salary adjustments, to relieve the burden on employees, have been made by many firms, but it has not been by any means as easy matter to evolve schemes which fairly meet the situation. The chief difficulty has been to arrive at a figure representing the actual percentage increase in living costs. This is due to the fact that there does not exist in Hongkong at the moment any machinery by which proper calculations may be made. At Home, statistics are kept which, by the use of an index figure, show precisely the rise and fall in living costs.

It would be a great boon if in Hongkong some system could be devised whereby official figures would be available showing the trend of living costs. In the Straits Settlements and the F.M.S., the Registrar of Statistics periodically reports along these lines, dealing with average prices and declared trade values. Comparisons are made of changes in the cost of food, clothing, rent and lighting, these being the items which bulk largely in the cost of living. No attempt is made, by a single figure, to measure changes in the general cost of living, as it is felt that preliminary investigations would be necessary to determine whether, in a population composed of so many different communities, it would be possible to construct a formula which, by a single number, would give a satisfactory index. However, it has been found feasible to single out main items of expenditure and to make deductions therefrom. To take rents as an example, the method followed is to group them in three categories—those ranging between $1 and $49 per month, those from $50 to $99, and those from $100 upward. Cold storage prices, European wearing apparel, lighting costs and market prices are also dealt with separately, with the result that it is possible, by comparing various periods, to show the percentage of rise or fall, and in this way, extremely valuable information is collated and made public.

The question which naturally suggests itself is whether some such scheme could not be put into operation here in Hongkong. His Excellency the Governor must have had experience of the methods employed in Malaya and would know to what extent the information gleaned is of value. The revived Trade Statistical Department would seem the appropriate medium through which the information could be gathered. In co-operation with the Assessor's Office, which could supply data regarding rentals. The same difficulty which is experienced in Malaya in hitting on a single index figure which would reflect conditions in a diverse population would, of course, be felt, but definite facts could be gleaned under certain specified headings, and sufficient knowledge could be gained to reflect general tendencies, at any rate. The matter is one of sufficient importance to business firms and the Services generally as to warrant some effort being made along the lines we have indicated. We commend the idea, therefore, to the Government, in the belief that it would be to the benefit of the Colony generally to throw much-needed light on a somewhat obscure situation.

Empire Marketing.

The annual report of the Empire Marketing Board which has just been issued tells a story of steady development and of the increasing sale of Empire products in British markets. The previous report established many records, but in the past twelve months these have been left behind, and we find outstanding increases in the returns of Empire fruit from all parts of the world, dairy produce, particularly from New Zealand, eggs from many countries, sugar—a notable increase this—and wine. It is interesting and satisfactory to note that the E.M.B. has not been affected seriously by the change of Government—the "movement" it stands for has no relation to party politics. To be sure, Lord Passfield has replaced Mr. Amery, and Mr. Lunn holds the office vacated by Mr. Ormsby-Gore, but the Conservative members of the board were invited by the Labour Government to remain. They agreed to do so, and consequently the board still represents all parties. To the outstanding advantage of the Empire. Scientists are servants of the E.M.B.; they travel all over the world to do its bidding, to Iraq and to Persia to Kenya and the West Indies. Modern transport comes within the range of the board's ample vision; it is not indifferent to the vitamin content of cod liver oil and the relative qualities of eating and cooking apples; it considers the cause of defective fleece in sheep and the steps that should be taken to feed our poultry on food of Empire origin. To sum up, it may be said that wherever there is work to be done that will enable the Empire's resources, whether at home or abroad, to be developed along the sound lines that work towards self-support, the Empire Marketing Board is prepared to assist the task and to make the necessary grant-in-aid, sometimes by an immediate payment and at others by a contribution extending over several years. It fosters an imperial consciousness of the most gracious and inoffensive kind in everyday life, and helps to pave the road along which we travel to that far off day when the Empire will be one self-contained and self-supporting economic unit. There is many a romance published as fiction that does not hold half the appeal to the imagination that is provided by this simple record of hard and enlightened effort on the Empire's behalf.

THE BOOKSHELF.

THE LATEST OFFERINGS IN FICTION.

One of the very best novels which we have ever encountered in Messrs. Ward, Lock and Company's Colonial Library series—and that is saying a great deal—is "White Hands Cannot Offend," by A.R. and R.K. Weekes. As to the story itself, a girl of the aristocratic house of Radolin, in escaping from the attentions of the monarch of a small European country, falls into the hands of brigands and is married by force to their chief. Later, both she and he, together with her brother, a priest, make a thrilling escape from pursuit by the Royal forces, and there are many exciting and intriguing situations before the end is reached. Not alone for the excellent construction of the story and its vivid treatment of the incidents involved is this book to be commended, but even more so because of the fine character drawing, which is subtle and penetrating. Indeed, we have seldom come across better work in this regard. The book is one which is well worthy of being read more than once.

Also in the Colonial Library series is another novel from the pen of William Le Queux, whose work is too well known to need emphasis. His latest book is "The Golden Three," which is the tale of a trio of rogues, one a woman, who worm their way into Society, discover family secrets, and then proceed to blackmail their victims. Even the cleverest of rogues sooner or later make a fatal mistake, and in this book Mr. Le Queux, with his accustomed skill, exemplifies this fact. There is plenty to grip the attention as the story unfolds. Quite a good book, which will be found entertaining to those who like this type of story.

In the Master Novelists' Series Messrs. Ward, Lock and Company are providing some excellent works, in large, clear type, by some of the most famous writers of fiction. Selling at 3s. 6d. net, they are well-chosen and should find a ready market. One of the most interesting of these is "Jim Trelawny," by Ottwell Binns. The hero of the story, who is wrongfully accused of forgery, emigrates to Canada, where he joins the North West Mounted Police, and later, by chance, he is instrumental in saving the life of his fiancée, who, quite unknown to him, has also gone to the North West on a secret mission. Many thrilling adventures fall to the couple before the story ends. The characters are well limned, and the book is packed with excitement from cover to cover.

In the same Series, E. Charles Vivian, who is known for many thrilling stories, is represented by "One Tropic Night," which shows the author in his happiest vein. The story is set on a little island in the Eastern seas, where Terry's store becomes the centre of visitors of all types, some of evil intent. One night, startling and thrilling events happen, and it is with these that the book deals, providing a novel of breathless interest. This is a real thriller, with an appropriate Eastern background.

Paul Trent's "The Unexpected Daughter" is another book of this Series. It tells of a girl whose father and mother are unknown to her and who is suddenly bereft of her guardian and thrown upon the world. Then chance takes a hand, and she finds herself amidst a set of people who play a vital part in her life and also in elucidating the secret which it holds. We have read better novels by this author, whose talent is undoubted, but all the same, this book will be found acceptable to many who like a mystery element in the stories they read.

"The Round Table"

The June number of the Round Table, that well-known quarterly review of politics, is chockful of ably written articles on subjects of world interest. This review is a co-operative enterprise conducted by people who dwell in various parts of the world, and whose aim is to give a comprehensive outline of world politics, free from the bias of local party issues. It thus has a somewhat unique place among publications of a similar character.

In the issue under notice there are many articles of engrossing interest. "The Problem of Japan" is obviously from the pen of a writer in a position to appreciate the true inwardness of the situation in the Far East. Japan has since the war, cut almost as important a figure in Britain's foreign relations as she did in the old days of Anglo-German rivalry. First, there was the question of the renewal of the old Anglo-Japanese Alliance and later the Washington Conference and the question of naval disarmament, and the Geneva failure in 1927. The Round Table article does not go into these problems, but it will enable the reader to understand Japanese policy in a way he could not do before, for it will help him to put himself in the position of a Japanese and to appreciate the force of local conditions.

The Round Table (5/- quarterly) can be obtained from Messrs. Kelly and Walsh.

The Very Idea!

An army officer was showing his fair guests about the camp when a bugle sounded. "What's that for?" the fair one inquired. "That's tattoo," the officer explained.

"Oh, I understand," she remarked. "I've often seen it on soldiers' arms, but I didn't know they had a special time for doing it."

"This vase is 2,000 years old! Be very careful in carrying it."

"You can depend on me, Professor; I'll be as careful of it as if it were new!"

(General knowledge questions of the most varied nature must be answered by candidates for promotion in the Navy.)

It's all very well knowing how to hoist signals

And the right way of boxing the compass,

And to come to the rescue with seafaring knacks

When the old ocean kicks up a rumpus,

But that isn't all in a jolly tar's life;

If he hopes to be duly promoted

He must know just how long it should take to say "Knife!"

And when Gladstone's remark should be quoted,

Why chickens cross roads, when a door's not a door,

Why eggs that are stale become staler,

Where Moses remained when the light was no more

—That's what we require of a sailor.

Editor's Wife: "I want to have a little chat with you."

Editor: "All right, my dear, but try and hold it down below 10,000 words."

Someone had congratulated the club wit on becoming a father.

"Oh, yes, thanks," he said. "We're quite an international household now. I represent England, my wife Scotland, and the babe walls."

Puns are not always properly attributed to their original author—possibly because puns have been condemned as the lowest form of wit. But some are worthy to live. Here's one which sums up whole systems of philosophy, but it was originally aimed at George Berkeley's (1685-1753) contentions regarding matter and mind:

"What is mind? No matter. What is matter? Never mind."

Mother to Harold, who has just been presented with a chocolate biscuit by amiable grocer:

"What do you say, Harold?"

Harold: "I've got two brothers at home."

Mr. J. J. Dale, of Messrs. Leigh and Orange, last night reported to the Police the theft of a basket, containing various articles and a sum of $6.50, from his car while it was parked outside the railway station at Kowloon Point.

WHO WAS—?
DR. FAUSTUS.

The best-known version of the tragic story of Dr. Faustus is that contained in Gounod's opera, but the English drama by Christopher Marlowe, is a very moving account of this unhappy man's bargain with the devil.

His Dr. Faustus was a student of Wurttemberg, who meddled with black magic. In exchange for twenty-four years of infinite wealth and power he agreed to give his body and soul to the devil at the end of that term.

The pact was made. Straightway Faustus bade Mephistopheles summon from the mists of bygone ages the fair form of Troy.

"Is this the face that launched a thousand ships,
And burned the toplest towers of Ilium?" he said, "wonderingly, as he gazed on the beautiful, pale features of her for whom Troy and Greece had fought for ten disastrous years."

Many other wonderful things Dr. Faustus enjoyed during his lease of life, but ultimately he was surfeited with the wealth and powers which he had bought so dearly. He tried to withdraw from his agreement, but all in vain. On the stroke of midnight at the end of the twenty-fourth year, the king of the fallen angels claimed him for his own.

PROBLEM OF GIRL THIEF.GRANDFATHER WHO GAVE ENCOURAGEMENT.*REDEEMED PLEDGE.

The difficulty of knowing what to do with a small girl arrested for stealing again, confronted Mr. Whyte Smith at the Kowloon Magistrate's Court this morning when a girl pleaded guilty to a charge of stealing a jewel box containing jewellery to the value of $41 and three pawn tickets.

The girl's grandfather was also brought before his Worship on a charge of receiving stolen property. He intimated that when he saw the box he questioned his granddaughter about it, but she said that she had bought it.

Sub Inspector C. Evans informed his Worship that the complainant, a school teacher of 2, Mongkok Road, reported the loss of the jewellery on April 26 last and on July 5 a detective arrested the second defendant attempting to redeem some jewellery on a pawn ticket. It was revealed that the jewellery mentioned had been redeemed previously by the complainant herself on an order by the Court when it had been traced to the pawn shop immediately after the theft.

The second defendant was taken to the Police Station and when questioned took the Police to his residence at 16, Mongkok Road. The first defendant, who was an orphan living with her grandfather and grandmother, was arrested and she admitted the theft. She had been formerly a pupil at the complainant's night school.

The second defendant, in reply to his Worship, said that he had found the pawn ticket with which he had been trying to redeem some jewellery. It was not his, but when he had seen that it mentioned a gold article he wanted to redeem it "as gold has got so high just now and I wanted gold."

His Worship: It looks very black against you. It looks to me as if you were encouraging your granddaughter to steal. It is nonsense about picking up a pawn ticket. Pawn tickets don't lie about for people to pick up.

Sentence of two months' hard labour was imposed.

His Worship remarked that he wondered what he should do with the small girl.

Sub Inspector Evans intimated that he understood that she had a previous conviction for a similar offence, having stolen from a school some months previously. On that occasion she was cautioned.

Continuing the officer remarked that he understood the Salvation Army had taken destitute orphans.

Remarking that the girl's grandmother and grandfather were more to blame for the girl's behaviour, his Worship remanded the case for twenty-four hours for the Police to communicate with the Salvation Army.

NEW O.S.K. MOTOR VESSEL.BRISBANE MARU ARRIVES IN PORT.

A vessel new to the port arrived in Hongkong over the week-end from Japan, this being the new O.S.K. motor vessel Brisbane Maru, which is on her maiden voyage. She is the latest addition to the Japan-Australian run and will join the Melbourne Maru and the Sydney Maru on this service.

The other two vessels have already been to Hongkong but this is the first visit of the Brisbane Maru, which was only completed at the beginning of the year. She is a steel screw motor vessel of 9,435 tons gross and 3,237 tons net. Registered at Osaka, she has a length of 980 feet, a beam of 54.5 feet and a depth of 34.2 feet.

She is under the command of Capt. R. Yamanoi, with a crew of 53 Japanese, and brought in 359 tons of general cargo for Hongkong and 1,000 tons for through ports. In his report to the Harbour Office, Capt. Yamanoi stated that heavy weather was encountered by the vessel on her voyage here.

MAN WHO JUMPED OVERBOARD.PASSENGER ON KWANGTUNG NOT FOUND.

A Chinese passenger disappeared during the voyage of the s.s. Kwangtung from Singapore to Hongkong via Hoihow, according to a report made to the Harbour Office by Capt. A. F. Summerfield, master of the vessel.

It is believed that the passenger jumped overboard at about 9.30 p.m. on July 2. An attempt was made to find him, but to no avail, and the vessel continued on her way to Hongkong, arriving here at 5.30 a.m. yesterday.

CLAIM FOR RENT FAILS.PARTIES CONDUCT THEIR OWN CASES.

A claim for rent was heard in the Summary Court this morning before Mr. Justice Wood, when the On Kut Tong, Nos. 159-161 Connaught Road Central, sued Cheng Kam-yau, alias Cheng Choy, No. 35, Lee Garden Street. Plaintiff claimed as the owner of No. 6, George Street, against defendant as tenant of the ground floor, for $56, being two months' rent from April 21, 1930, to June 17, 1930. Both parties conducted their own cases, defendant being accompanied by a woman.

Leung Lung, rent collector for plaintiff, said that defendant remained on the premises until August, 1929, when he asked witness to change the name on future rent receipts to Cheng Kam-yau. He explained to witness that Cheng Choy was his school name, but his proper name was Cheng Kam-yau.

Witness stated that the woman in Court was defendant's wife and said she had never paid the rent. Wong Yau, living at No. 6, George Street, stated that she knew defendant who was the tenant of the ground floor. The woman was his wife.

Another rent collector, Leung Fong-sing, said he did not know the woman's name, but added that he had never received rent from her.

Giving evidence, Cheng Kam-yau, the woman with defendant, stated that he was not her husband. She said her husband's name was Chan Yi and defendant was a friend of his. She continued that she was the tenant of the floor but moved out on May 13, 1930.

His Lordship gave judgment for defendant.

FIVE MILES IN PYJAMAS.BOYISH PRANK OF PEER'S NEPHEW.

The ten-year-old nephew of the Marquis of Hertford—Frank Hugh Seymour—caused some anxious moments at his school in the Westgate district and to the coastguards in the vicinity.

When it was discovered that he had broken out of the school and gone off wearing his pyjamas, a widespread search was organised along the Thanet coast. Police, special constables and coastguards all took part.

The boy, however, had only walked about five miles to Reculvers, where his parents (Lord George Seymour and Lady Seymour) were camping.

He explained that as he knew he would not be allowed out on a holiday he had decided to see his parents at all costs.

"It was just a boyish prank, for which he is now very sorry," said Lord George Seymour.

"No blame," he added, "can be attached either to the boy or the school. It was only natural that he should want to see us when we were staying so close to him."

"We were very surprised when he came walking along the road, but as soon as we saw he was in pyjamas with a few clothes pushed over them, and learned that he was absent without permission, we decided that he should be taken back at once."

SEGRAVE INQUEST.BOAT STRUCK WATERLOGGED TREE BRANCH.

London, July 5. A verdict of accidental death was returned at the resumed inquest on the late Sir Henry Segrave, who met his death while establishing new speed records with his motor boat, "Miss England the Second," on Lake Windermere. The evidence confirmed that the disaster was due to the boat striking a waterlogged branch of a tree.—Reuter.

CAPTAIN'S CUP.J. S. MacLAREN QUALIFIES AT FANLING.

J. S. MacLaren qualified for the Captain's Cup at Fanling over the week-end with a score of 72 (82-10.) Other scores were:

J. Smith 85—11=74

F. Groves 87—12=75

A. B. Stewart 81—3=78

The health bulletin of Far Eastern Ports for the week ending June 28th, issued by the Director of Medical and Sanitary Services, contains the following cases, the figures in parenthesis indicating deaths: Plague, Alexandria 4 (6), Port Said 1, Baghdad 4, Bombay (1), Rangoon 1 (1), Penang (1) and Beirut 1, Cholera, Calcutta 77 (63), Rangoon 2 (1), Bangkok 1 (2), Penang 14 (6) and Saigon 5; Small-Pox, Bombay 19 (10), Calcutta 36 (30), Cochinchina 1, Karachi 1, Madras 8, Mouline 6 (1), Negapatam 1, Rangoon 2 (1), Penang 3 (1), and Shanghai (1).

DUAL MOTORING TRAGEDY.TWO EUROPEANS KILLED IN THE F.M.S.*PINNED UNDER CAR.

Kuala Lumpur, June 28. Two Europeans were killed as the result of a motor-car accident near Port Dickson in the early hours of to-day.

They were Company Sergeant-Major Weekes, of the Negri Sembilan Volunteer Force and Mr. T. N. Gale, an assistant of the Sungai Krudda Estate, Sungai Supput, Perak.

C. S. M. Weekes who was formerly a member of the Welch Regiment, now at Singapore, joined the F.M.S.F., eight months ago, and was District Sergeant-Major and Instructor, Negri Sembilan. At the time of his death he was acting as Company Sergeant-Major of the M.S.V.R. School of Instruction at Port Dickson.

Just before entering Port Dickson the motor-car ran over a bank at the side of the road, fell six feet, and pinned the two men underneath. It is thought that the accident was due to a tyre bursting.

The two men were taken to hospital, where they died within a few hours of each other.

The funeral, which was a double one, took place the same day, the coffins being draped with the Union Jack. The service was taken by the Rev. F. W. J. Reynolds, of Kuala Lumpur. Among those present was Mr. Caldecott, Resident, Negri Sembilan. There were many wreaths from volunteers and planters.

AIR GUN AND BOX OF SHOT.CHINESE WHO WANTED TO SHOOT BIRDS.

After landing at the Kowloon Godowns on his arrival in the Colony from Sandakan, a Chinese was found to have an air rifle and two boxes of shot in his luggage. He was arrested and this morning made his appearance before Mr. Whyte Smith at the Kowloon Magistrate on a charge of unlawful possession.

The defendant intimated that he did not know that a permit was necessary.

Detective Sergeant Kellett remarked that he had instructions from the Superintendent to ask his Worship not to take a serious view of the case.

In reply to his Worship the defendant said that he wanted the gun for shooting birds. He was only passing through the Colony and would be leaving within the next two days.

The prosecuting officer said that the rifle and shot were found as the defendant left the ship. A detective, who had received information, asked the defendant if he had any contraband goods in his luggage but he replied in the negative. After the rifle and shot had been found the defendant's excuse for his denial was that he did not know what the detective had said.

His Worship imposed a fine of $10 and confiscated the rifle and shot.

BARRIE'S FIRST LOVE POEM.NEW AULD LIGHT IDYLL WOVEN.*BOYHOOD DAYS.

A new "Auld Licht Idyll" was woven when Sir James Barrie received the freedom of his native town of Kirriemuir, and presented to it a sports pavilion.

Sir James was in reminiscent mood, and opening, as it were, "A Window in Thrums," looked out upon the old town and recalled his boyhood escapades.

It was not easy, he declared, to make a speech "on this Hill of Memories to people who are more like me, inside, than any other people are."

"I remember once being asked in America to speak to a women's college containing 900 girls. I said I couldn't, but that if they would make outside one at a time I would make 900 speeches to them. I had cause to regret that offer."

"You can be too lonely in your first year in London," continued Sir James.

Once I thought I had murdered a man, a Chinaman.

I thought I put him in a great box which I painted black, and buried him in a back garden.

When I came to I saw what had happened. It was no dream, but I had sat too long night after night staring at my lodgings mantlesheaf. In the middle of it was a little box and the figure of a Chinaman. I had stared at them till they assumed gigantic proportions.

An "Incomplete Angler."

Robert Louis Stevenson once went fishing around Kirriemuir, and though I never had the good fortune to meet him, he wrote me many years afterwards from Samoa, and described how he had stayed at the Airlie Arms and sat under a very terrifying minister. He had a curious experience when fishing in the Noran. As he sat on the bank he heard some of his trout still wobbling in the basket. A scunner came over him and he vowed never to angle for trout again.

He was about 18 at the time, and I was seven, but oh, why wasn't I on the look out for him, if only to carry his bag to the station?

I want to tell you about a very happy affair that is closely connected with this pavilion.

My old companion James Robb and I used to play together "till mysterious night fell," and then the one would accompany the other half way home. After we parted, we whistled to each other to intimate that no "doodle" had got us so far. It was a note we had invented, no one could whistle it except ourselves.

Distance and the rugged things of life separated as the years rolled on.

Then, two years ago, I was here on a sad errand, and the two of us went wandering away across the bill through Caddam.

Well, that day I made a grand discovery: that the great friend of my childhood was still the one closest to me in my dotage.

Growlings.

During our walk in the wood Mr. Robb said to me gruffly, in case we got sentimental, you know:

"We used to have a private way of whistling to each other."

"Did we?" I said, growling for the same reason.

"I could do it now," he said "but I suppose you have forgotten it."

"It was a long time ago," I said.

I could see by his face that he wished I had remembered. I couldn't keep it up any longer, so I joutik behind a tree, and whistled our whistle. He jumped and whistled it back.

All through Caddam Wood we went, gaily whistling that old whistle—and on my word, ladies and gentlemen, I think that is largely how it comes about that I offer you this pavilion.

The Provost, presenting Sir James with the Burgess ticket in a silver casket, assured him that the casket also contained the heart of Kirriemuir.

Sir James thanked the citizens and recalled that, years ago, an Edinburgh University student might have been seen outside Kirriemuir post office, undecided whether to post a letter or not.

At last he dropped it in and disappeared, he said. "I was that student and the letter contained the only love poem I ever wrote. It was addressed to a lady in Kirriemuir. I did not sign it, and have no reason to believe she ever knew from whom it came. I can remember the first two lines. It began—

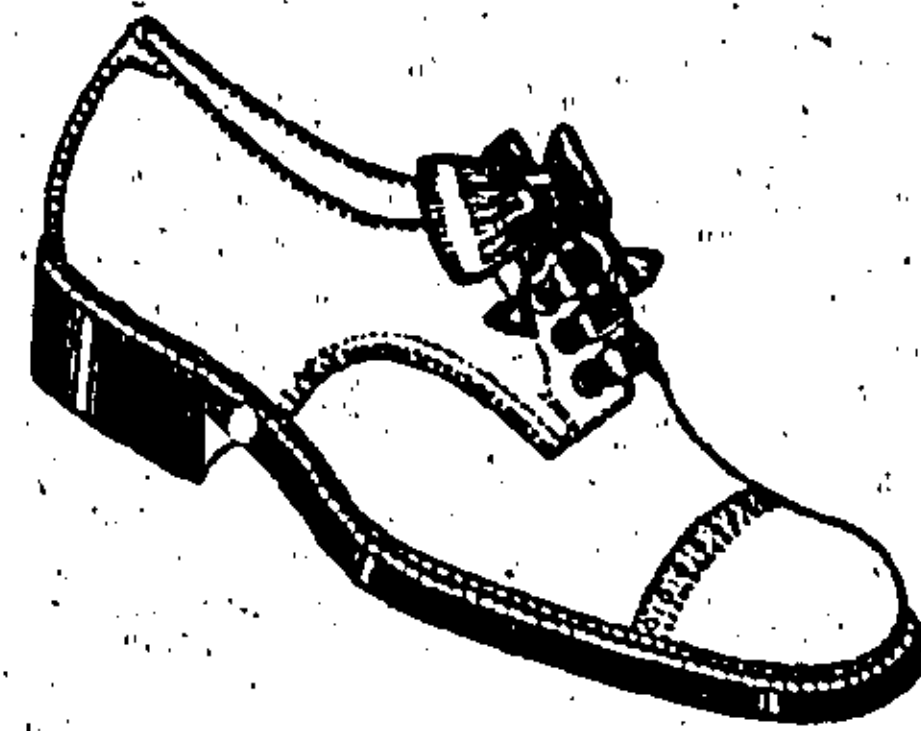

"Is Venus dead? Methinks she must have left to you her face."

Sir James concluded by saying that just as he was going to tell the name, he found that they had to proceed to the next item on the programme.

HENLEY REGATTA FINALS.

DIAMOND SCULLS WON BY CANADIAN.

London, July 5.

The final events in the Henley Regatta were decided today. In the final of the Diamond Sculls (Canada) easily beat Boetzelen (Germany) in 8 minutes 29 seconds. This was the first meeting in the final between a German and a Canadian in the history of the race.

Boetzelen had defeated Joe Wright, also of Canada and a previous holder of the title, by one and a quarter lengths. The race was a very spirited one, the German's time being 8 minutes 52 seconds. Guest, who went on to victory today, easily defeated Collett of Leander in the semi-final when his time was 8 minutes 42 seconds.

In the Stewards' Cup, the London Rowing Club beat Leander Rowing Club by one and a half lengths in 7 minutes 34 seconds.

In the Silver Goblets, Pridaux Rickett (Third Trinity) beat Graham Johnston (Brasenose) by two lengths in 8 minutes 42 seconds.

The London Rowing Club easily beat Vesta in the Wyfold Cup, the winner's time being 7 minutes 52 seconds.

The Visitors' Cup was won by Brasenose, who defeated Pembroke (Cambridge) by one and a half lengths in 8 minutes 6 seconds.—Reuter.

DIVING EXHIBITION AT THE V.R.C.

INSTRUCTIVE PERFORMANCE BY ED. DA ROZA.

Variety was the spice of the second aquatic fête held by the Victoria Recreation Club on Saturday night, some of the interesting events featured being under-water swimming, a mixed team race and a race with lighted candles, in which competitors of both sexes participated.

A diving exhibition, which held much instructional interest for the large gathering of spectators, was given by Ed. da Roza. This was performed from the upper and lower platforms, and consisted of a variety of figures: Jack knife, Flying Dutchman, somersaults and handstand dive, varied by a change in positions. Da Roza was deservedly applauded for his extremely fine performance.

A four-style 100 yards race open to the Colony was won by W. Lawrence, while in the mixed team races, S. W. Gittins' combination beat the one captained by W. Foraita.

The Results.

Following were the results:
50 yards Members' Handicap.—1. L. A. Soares; 2. L. Roza-Pereira. Time: 23.2/5 secs. There were four heats in this event, the first man in each heat being L. A. Soares (30.2/5 secs.), S. V. Gittins (27 secs.), F. Silva-Metio (23 secs.) and L. Roza-Pereira (29 secs.).

100 yards open to the Colony (Four Styles: Breast, Side, Back and Free).—1. W. Lawrence; 2. T. Paget. Time: 76 secs.

50 yards Ladies' Handicap (Breast Stroke).—1. Miss G. Dalziel; 2. Miss A. Fowler. Time: 40 secs.

One Length Swimming under Water.—1. W. Foraita; 2. L. Roza-Pereira. Time: 15 secs. There were five heats and those who qualified for the final, besides the winners, were Ed. da Roza, L. A. Roza, and E. Lawrence.

Midnight Candle Race.—1. Miss E. M. Booth and H. M. Remedios; 2. Miss A. Fowler and W. Foraita.

Mixed Team Race.—1. S. V. Gittins' team; 2. W. Foraita's team.

Water Polo.—Chinese, 3 goals; Services, 1 goal.

HURDLE RECORD SET UP.

A GREAT PERFORMANCE BY LORD BURGHEY.

The strong foreign challenges were moderately successful in the athletic championships at Stamford Bridge.

Berger won the hundred yards for Holland in 9.9/10th seconds, while Van der Zee tied with a Swede in the pole jump, the height being 12 feet 3 inches. France won the discus throwing event with a distance of 148 feet 6 inches. Sweden came second and Norway third. Palmieri of Italy won the javelin throwing with 202 feet 1 inch, Granli of Norway coming second with 193 feet 9 1/4 inches.

The four mile event went to Finland, Virtanen doing the distance in 19 minutes 36 1/5th seconds. Sweden took the hammer throwing event with a distance of 167 feet 9 inches and also the long jump at 24 feet 2 inches. Holland taking the next two places.

Lord Burghley of England put up a great performance, winning both the hurdles. He did the 120 yards in 16

1/5th seconds and the 440 hurdles in 53 4/5th seconds. The latter constitutes a new British native record.

Hampson, of Achilles, won the mile event in 4 minutes 15 seconds, being one new British native record. Britain held her own in the track events, losing only two.—Reuter.

TENNIS TRIUMPH.

TILDEN THE SINGLES CHAMPION.

London, July 5.

In the presence of the King and Queen and Prince George, "Big Bill" Tilden staged the greatest come-back in the history of modern sport when at Wimbledon to-day he routed Wilmer Allison, who is thirteen years younger, and won the singles championship after an interval of nine years.

Despite all the youngsters' attempts to force the pace, Tilden played his own game. He dispensed with all finesse and relied on solid, accurate drives and a cannon-ball service. With these strokes he stormed through the first and third sets, pinning Allison down to the back line and cunningly preventing all attempts to force the speed.

Tilden played Allison's mastery service magnificently except in the second set when Allison served ace after ace, winning seven games, until Tilden broke through at the fifteenth. The scores were 6-3, 2-7, 6-4.

Women's Doubles.

In the final of the women's doubles Mrs. Wills-Moody and Miss Ryan beat Miss Edith Cross and Miss Sarah Palfrey 6-2, 9-7. Mrs. Wills-Moody rolled off three service aces while Miss Ryan polished off a love game with an easy smash. They continued to sweep through despite the resistance of the dark-skinned Miss Palfrey, who captured the hearts of the Wimbledon spectators, and despite the fact that Miss Ryan received one of Miss Cross's volleys full in the face.

Miss Palfrey mixed mistakes with brilliance, but smashed unabashed to press her rivals to the vantage set.

In the final of the mixed doubles, Crawford (Australia) and Miss Ryan (America) beat Penn and Fraulien Krahwinkel (Germany) 6-1, 6-3.—Reuter.

AUSTRALIANS MEET NOTTINGHAM.

ALL OUT FOR LESS THAN 300 RUNS.

London, July 5.

A match between the Australians and Notts was commenced at Nottingham to-day.

The Australians batted first and were dismissed for a total of 296. McCabe, Richardson and Kippax were the principal scorers with 58, 55 and 93 respectively. Voce claimed four wickets for 86 runs.—Reuter.

NEW ZEALAND WIN.

BRITAIN BEATEN IN THE RUGBY TEST.

Christchurch, July 5.

New Zealand won the second Rugby Test against Britain by 13 points to 10.

In the first Rugby Test game on June 21, the British touring team beat New Zealand by 6 points to 3.

1/5th seconds and the 440 hurdles in 53 4/5th seconds. The latter constitutes a new British native record.

His Rheumatism Got Worse In The Warm Weather

Until Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Drove It Out By Purifying and Enriching His Blood.

Many people suffer rheumatic pains that could be avoided by building up the blood. To make rich blood, no medicine equals Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. By driving out poisonous secretions, these Pills banish the causes of rheumatism, thus restoring robust health. Among thousands of sufferers cured in this way is a Canadian woodsman, Mr. Joseph A. Tully, of Bobcaygeon, Ontario.

"As a worker in the woods for years I was exposed to all kinds of rough wintery weather," says Mr. Tully. "The result was that I was finally laid up with rheumatism. I could hardly stir, and was confined to bed. Medicine seemed to have little or no effect, and the best encouragement the doctor gave me was that with the coming of warm weather I would be better. But instead of getting better, I grew worse. My joints were badly swollen, and my legs so stiff they would hardly support my body."

"Then I decided to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. The results were beyond my expectations. After a few weeks the swelling had disappeared, the stiffness gradually wore away, and all traces of rheumatism had vanished. The next winter when I went into the woods I took a supply of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills with me, and they kept me in the best of condition. My experience should give encouragement to other rheumatic sufferers."

New good red blood is a wonderful thing; it drives out aches and pains, gives renewed strength to enfeebled stomachs, revivifies the nerves and the whole system, and you can get it in rich abundance through Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

FARMERS SAVE A TRAIN.

ATTEMPT TO WRECK EXPRESS FROM NANKING.

Shanghai, July 5. An attempt was made to wreck the night express from Nanking to Shanghai last night. A number of prominent Government officials were on the train at the time when a bomb was placed on the lines. It exploded and wrecked several rails. The noise of the explosion awoke farmers near-by who warned the station master at Changchow in time for him to stop the express. The train was delayed for five hours. No arrests were made.—Reuter.

IMPERIAL TRADE.

VIEWS OF BANKERS DISCUSSED.

London, July 5.

In political circles much discussion centres upon the resolution adopted by many leading bankers and industrialists regarding tariffs and Empire trade. The document, which was transmitted yesterday, advocated prompt measures for stimulating inter-Imperial trade and pointed out that restrictions upon European trade, instead of decreasing had increased and while retaining the hope of an ultimate extension of Empire trade throughout the world, expressed the belief that immediate steps are required for inter-Imperial trade agreements to be secured by leaving British markets open to Empire products and imposing tariffs on imports from other countries.

The importance of the document is minimised by the free traders. The Daily Herald (Labour), describes it as interesting rather than important, and states that the signatory bankers were expressing their personal opinion rather than their official views.

It thinks the city views are well nearer to the bankers' manifesto of October, 1926, in favour of free trade and that the present resolution is a product of a minority group. A similar line is taken by the Liberal papers.

Tory Support.

The Daily Mail and the Daily Express regard the resolution as an important score for the Empire free trade policy they are advocating.

The Telegraph says that in Conservative circles the resolution is welcomed as justifying the action of Mr. Stanley Baldwin in advancing a policy of the economic unity of the Empire, and that in the new situation the disappearance of the referendum is held to be inevitable. The Times says that the resolution, taken in conjunction with the report on the economic policy by the General Council of the Trades Union Congress, is held by the Conservatives to give Mr. Baldwin every right to consider action regarding his referendum pledge should he desire to do so.

Mr. J. H. Thomas, Secretary for Dominions, said yesterday that the Government intended to enter the SPEED LIMIT GOES.

GOVERNMENT TO PUBLISH A "HIGHWAY CODE."

London, July 6.

The House of Commons has approved the Government's proposal to abolish the speed limit for motor cars by a two to one majority. It is proposed that when the decision takes effect a system of Police patrols on motor-cycles and in motor cars will be established, the cost to be met out of grants from the Road Fund. Mr. Morrison, the Minister of Transport, said the speed limit system had broken down, but that with the abolition, efforts to prevent dangerous driving would have to be redoubled. The Government would publish a "Highway Code" for the education, not only of motorists, but also, for pedestrians, who needed it equally.—British Wireless.

LONG FLIGHT ENDS.

"SOUTHERN CROSS" RETURNS TO OAKLAND.

London, July 5.

Major Kingsford Smith and his companions in the "Southern Cross," who flew the Atlantic last week, have arrived at Oakland, California, after flying across the United States.

It was from Oakland that these airmen started on their trans-Pacific flight. They are thus the first to fly round the world by the direct route over the Pacific and the Atlantic. Kingsford Smith piloted the machine on every stage. He has been promoted to Wing Commander.—Reuter and British Wireless.

forthcoming Imperial Conference free to consider every problem on its merits without prejudice or bias, adding, "It will be prepared to discuss with the single-minded desire of finding a solution of this Imperial question on which so much attention is at present being focused. To say more than that would be dangerous and calculated to do harm by building up hopes and expectations which may not be realised."—British Wireless.

BURGLAR ENTERS GIRL'S SCHOOL.

CLOTHING STOLEN AND PUT IN SUITCASE.

CLIMBED OVER WALL.

A burglary at the Diocesan Girls' School in Jordan Road during the early hours of Sunday morning was mentioned before Mr. Whyte Smith at the Kowloon Magistracy this morning when a Chinese appeared before the Court on charges of stealing seven pairs of shoes and a leather attache case to the total value of $50, and a suit of Chinese female clothing valued $5.

The defendant admitted both charges. According to Detective Sergeant Naughton the defendant climbed over the wall of the Diocesan Girls' School shortly after 3 o'clock yesterday morning and gained admittance to an empty room.

He collected together seven pairs of shoes belonging to the students and a suit of clothing belonging to an amah. These he placed in a suit case which he found in the room and then left the premises by climbing over the wall again. An Indian constable on duty at the back of the school premises saw the defendant and had him arrested.

His Worship remarked that the two charges were really one as they had been committed at the same time and intimated that whatever sentence he gave would be made concurrent.

The defendant was sentenced to five months' hard labour on the first charge and two months on the second, the terms being concurrent.

PARTIES AT INDIA CONFERENCE.

about 40 to 50 will in one sense be unwieldy on the other hand if the conference succeeds in evolving a common formula, the very diversity of the conference personnel, it is held, would be the best asset for a wide acceptance of these proposals by the varied interests that would be represented at the conference.

As regards amnesty to political prisoners, Mr. Bann's statement stands that Government would be prepared to withdraw emergency measures and adopt a policy of conciliation provided the civil disobedience movement is called off and that unless such true is observed political prisoners released to make a proper atmosphere for the conference would only seek fresh imprisonment in pursuance of the policy. Thus it is expected that the personnel of the conference would be representative of non-congress political thoughts besides various special interests.

"HAPPY DAYS"

SNAPPY FILM AT THE QUEEN'S THEATRE.

"Happy Days," a musical extravaganza, featuring a host of well-known screen personalities, commenced a five days' run at the Queen's Theatre yesterday. There were packed houses at every show.

No greater variety could be offered than in this picture containing as it does, a succession of snappy dances, song hits and burlesque performances, which to see is thoroughly enjoy. Thoughts of other happy days spent at the picture house are conjured up by the appearance of many favourites such as Charles Farrell and Janet Gaynor, Anne Pennington, Will Rogers, Victor McLaglen, Warner Baxter and others. Many of these are seen for the first time in a talkie part on the screen and their appearance in this picture affords interesting comparisons with first impressions.

The show is from first to last a wonderful procession of stage ensembles, and holds the interest right to the fade-out.

ROYAL WEDDING ANNIVERSARY.

KING AND QUEEN RECEIVE CONGRATULATIONS.

London, July 6. Congratulations from all parts of the world were to-day received by the King and Queen on the celebration of the 37th anniversary of their wedding.

Yesterday, Dr. Julio Prestes, President-Elect of Brazil, and members of his suite lunched privately with their Majesties at Buckingham Palace.—British Wireless.

FIGHT ON NAVAL TREATY.

AMERICAN SENATE MEETS TO-DAY.

MINORITY REPORT SAYS U.S. BADLY SUFFERS.

RATIFICATION ISSUE.

Washington, June 30.

Senator Hiram Johnson, Republican of California, to-day declared war on the London Naval Treaty of 1930 and gave warning that the fight of President Hoover to obtain its ratification in the Senate may rival the futile efforts of the late President Woodrow Wilson to put the United States in the League of Nations.

Senator Johnson made public the 10,000-word minority report against the London pact which he and three other members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee signed.

To-day's publication of the treaty minority report reveals Senator Johnson's charges that Mr. Ramsay MacDonald, head of England's Labour Government, promised President Hoover to allow the United States to build a new super-battleship.

Inferior U.S. Navy.

According to the minority report even if Great Britain scraps five battleships, the United States one and Japan one, the United States would still possess a navy inferior to that of Great Britain because England would have the battleships Rodney and Nelson built after the battle of Jutland.

The minority report asserts that although the London treaty is supposed to remove at least numerical disparity between the United States and Great Britain, the British Navy in reality has an advantage of about 25,000 tons, which is nearly the equivalent of a battleship.

Eleven Objections.

The majority report cites eleven objections to the London treaty. Senator Johnson said to-day that it abandons the long-established naval policy of the United States, that it makes it impossible for the United States to protect American commerce and shipping, that it destroys the 5-5-3 ratio, that it does not give the United States naval parity with Great Britain and that it hamstrings the United States in the Pacific ocean by an unfair and unjustified increase in Japan's naval ratio. He repeated his charges that the American navy under the treaty would be inferior to those of England and Japan.

Calls Special Session.

Signing the minority report with Senator Johnson were Senator Arthur R. Robinson of Indiana and Senator George H. Moles of New Hampshire, both Republicans, and Senator Henrik Shipstead, Farmer-Labourite of Minnesota.

President Hoover now plans to convene the Senate in special session on July 7 to consider the London treaty. Then the real fight against its ratification will begin. In advance of the extra session however, the opponents of the treaty are busy attempting to muster enough votes to defeat ratification of the document drafted by the five-power naval limitations conference which in April concluded its sessions in London.

Appeal to Nation.

Washington, June 28.

President Hoover to-day prepared to appeal to the people of the nation to bring pressure to bear on the recalcitrant Senate to ratify the London Naval Treaty of 1930. There was evidence that possibly there may be further delays in ratifying the London pact when it became apparent that the present session of Congress may not adjourn for another week.

Accordingly, President Hoover let it be known that he may not be able to convene the Senate in special session until July 7 to consider the London treaty. Originally, a special session of the Senate was fixed for June 25.

Because of the delay President Hoover may have to appeal to the American people as a whole to get action. Persons close to the administration are aware that President Hoover considers it essential that the treaty be ratified as soon as possible. He deems ratification essential both for the internal domestic affairs and the foreign relations of the United States.

FAIR TO SHOWERY.

The Royal Observatory reports that a shallow depression covers China. A trough of low pressure extends from the Philippines to Gnam. The local forecast is: S.E. or variable winds, moderate, fair to showery.

BIG SEIZURE OF CIGARETTES.

TWENTY CASES FOUND IN A BASEMENT.

ONLY ONE ARREST.

Information received by the Revenue Office on Saturday led to a raid on No. 131, Queen's Road West, where an enormous seizure of allegedly dutiable cigarettes was made by the officers.

Detailing the facts before Mr. Lindsell this morning, when he brought up a man arrested in the affair, for the purposes of applying for a remand, Revenue Officer Grimmer stated that a basement under the building was entered by the Revenue Officers. Here they found 20 cases of cigarettes, but of the occupants there was no sign. Unknown to the officers, there were three different exits from the basement, and through two of these, which were overlooked, the occupants had made their escape before the appearance of the raiding party.

A man who was escaping from the first floor, was however, intercepted. He endeavoured to get rid of a key, which was found to fit a lock in a door leading from the floor into the basement.

The basement was let out to a shop styled the Sang Lee, which was in its turn raided. Information of the intended measure must have reached the people of the shop ahead of the raiding party, for the place was found to be deserted on their arrival.

Certain papers were found which the authorities believe may be useful in the case, and these are being translated.

The accused was remanded. He is represented by Mr. Hin-shing Lo, on instructions from Mr. J. M. Hall.

GREAT GATHERING OF PRIESTS.

LAMBETH CONFERENCE TO OPEN TO-DAY.

London, July 7.

The largest assembly of Episcopacy in the history of the Anglican Church gathered at St. Paul's Cathedral yesterday for the service as a preparation to the opening of the seventh Lambeth Conference to-day.

There were over three hundred Bishops from all over the world, white, yellow and black, including a Japanese Prelate who was once a Buddhist, the native Lord Bishop of Dornakal (South India) and Bishop Howell, a native African. The deliberations of the Conference will be secret and will last for five weeks. The unity of the Church will be the principal item on the agenda, which will also include the South Indian reunion scheme.

The Conference does not hold any legislative powers but is merely advisory.—Reuter.

hand brake was off and the gear in neutral.

No Dual Marks.

He had the lorry moved to the Aberdeen Motor Bus Company, and made sketches and measurements of the roadway, in addition to taking photographs of certain marks.

Witness proceeded to explain the positions and lengths of the marks made by wheels. He pointed out where these marks were in single line without corresponding marks that should have been made by the other set of wheels if the vehicle were travelling along on all four wheels and the weight was evenly distributed.

The case was adjourned.

HEAVY WEATHER.

SHANTUNG HAS TO TAKE SHELTER.

Almost every vessel arriving here from the North over the weekend reported heavy weather in the vicinity of Amoy, and in one case conditions were so bad that shelter had to be taken.

Capt. P. Green, master of the s.s. Shantung, reports that after leaving Shanghai on July 1, the vessel encountered rough weather and was forced to take shelter at Amoy Outer Harbour for about 10 hours before proceeding to Hongkong, arriving here yesterday morning.
